Guests of The United States Army Field Band:

On behalf of the United States Army, I welcome you to this performance by The United States Army Field Band – America’s premier touring musical organization. As the Field Band sets out on their Spring 2023 National Outreach Tour, know that these talented men and women represent the dedication, devotion, and professionalism of the American Soldier, their fellow Department of the Army Civilians, and our Army Families. They also represent our Nation’s Veterans through their musical excellence, electrifying performances, and patriotic spirit. I’m confident their performance will both inspire and entertain you.

The Soldiers performing today represent the Total Army Force – those deployed and forward-stationed – committed in over 140 countries around the world who defend our Nation and its interests. It is through their commitment, and the support of the American People, that the United States Army remains the world’s premier combat force.

Sincerely,

Allan M. Pepin
Major General, U.S. Army
Commanding General,
Military District of Washington
